Primavera Chamber Ensemble

Paul Manley - violin, Sophie Langdon - violin
Morgan Goff - viola, Andrew Fuller - cello
David Campbell - clarinet, Roger Montgomery - horn
Wendy Phillips - bassoon

Now in it's 35th year , the name of the group is based on the Italian word for spring, reflecting the joie de vivre that its musicians have always brought to their performances. Primavera as one of Britain's finest ensembles has created an enviable reputation with an accolade of reviews at international festivals in Britain, including Brighton, Canterbury, Mayfield, Newbury, Perth, Winchester, and also abroad, in the Netherlands, Italy, Malta, France and Slovenia. They have made regular appearances on the South Bank and at the Wigmore Hall. and made two TV series entitled Music in Mansions for Meridian Television.

As a small 'chamber band' they have recorded highly appraised CD's of Mendelssohn String symphonies, Russian String works, a French and English collection of string music and as an ensemble, the Mendelssohn's Octet and Second String Quintet. For release this May on Divine Art Records is a new CD featuring music by Helen Habershon performed by our orchestra – London Primavera.

New commissions have included works by leading composers such as Paul Patterson, Patrick Gowers, Gavyn Bryars, Malcolm Lipkin and Phillip Glass.
